T. C. McDowell Scores a Double With Plum and Queen Errant—Meteorite Gives King Herod Weight and a Beating.

(By J. L. Dempsey.)

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The colors of Thomas C. McDowell, the Lexington turfmen and breeder were much in prominence this afternoon, representatives from his stable carrying them to victory on two occasions and, in each instance, the calculations of the supposed smart set were upset. The first victory for McDowell came when Plum, a shapely miss, sired by The Manager—Acushla, showed her heels, from the start to a highly regarded field of two-year-old fillies, that included G. D. Widener's, Jr. Rose D'or and John Sanford's La Russe. The latter was an overwhelming favorite and thought by most to have the race at her mercy, but Plum, going in her best form, raced into a decisive lead in the first quarter and had speed in reserve at the end to outstay the fast coming Rose D'Or. La Russe began slowly, but it is unlikely that she would have headed the McDowell youngster, even had she been away on even terms with her.

Queen Errant was the other successful McDowell color bearer. She was in the Hoosick Falls mile handicap that featured a mediocre racing offering and won easily from Ima Frank, with Capra in third place. The latter was an outstanding favorite. She was away well, but Lykes elected to restrain her and when he did attempt to go into the lead, she suffered from repeated interference and finally, to avoid any more trouble, went to the outside, but Queen Errant and Ima Frank had then secured a long enough lead to prevent their displacement.

Features were lacking this afternoon, the card of six races provided for the entertainment of the big throng, was minus any of the numerous stars at this track. The card on the whole was well arranged and good sport resulted with the running of each race. The steeplechase over the two-mile course was closely run, with Archdale outstaying The Brook in the final drive, with New Haven in third place. All the starters excepting Saadi, which refused over the last two jumps, fenced faultlessly and ran closely grouped for most of the way.

The talent began in auspicious fashion when they selected Meteorite as the one likeliest to finish in front and their deductions were correct, for Loftus brought the Sanford representative up with a rush in the stretch and won from King Herod, with Icarus following. King Herod's showing was an impressive one and it should improve him.

Erratic Sam McMeekin On His Good Behavior.

The erratic Sam McMeekin was on his good behavior this afternoon and won in easy style from Silver Sandals, with The Grader following. Sam McMeekin began with the others today, followed the leaders closely and, when Butwell called on him in the stretch, drew away decisively.

The concluding race furnished the biggest upset of the afternoon by the victory of Gifford A. Cochran's Nepperhan over Jusqu' au Bout. The last named appeared a certain winner on the stretch turn, but succumbed when challenged, despite jockey Loftus' energetic efforts. The L. S. Thompson representative, Debadou, brother to Leochares, was the one in most demand for the race, but he acted badly at the barrier, with the result that he was away slowly and was not good enough to close the immense gap that separated him from the leaders.

John E. Madden today concluded arrangements with Samuel E. Willets whereby that sportsman secures the entire crop of Star Shoot weanlings, numbering fourteen head, now at Hamburg Place. Mr. Madden also disposed of at private terms to T. B. Cromwell the yearling filly, Tactless, which he bought Saturday night at the C. H. Mackay sale. The youngster was shipped to Lexington, where D. T. Morris will look after her early racing lessons.

Jockey W. Knapp has contracted to ride next year for W. S. Kilmer, the Binghampton, N. Y., turfman, who will again race a pretentious string of horses, having already acquired a big band of yearlings to add to his extensive racing establishment.

Word was received this morning that Coley Thompson, who recently departed from here for his home in Nashville, had died yesterday. Coley Thompson at one time was a well-known jockey and piloted numerous winners on Kentucky tracks. Of late years he had been employed by several well-known layers as a clocker.

S. D. Riddle, of Glen Riddle Farm, has added Martian by purchase, acquiring the horse from H. W. Sage for a reported price of $5,000.

Jockey Petz to Ride for S. L. Parsons.

G. P. Burke, the contract employer of jockey J. Petz, concluded negotiations today with Schuyler L. Parsons, whereby the rider will ride in the Parsons colors during the remainder of the New York racing season and also in Maryland.

The horses that Archie Zimmer raced at the recent Dongan Hills, Staten Island meeting, were left at Jamaica to be rested until the fall meeting there.

W. Cahill this morning secured the mare Miss Kruter, from B. Williams at an advance over the price that the latter claimed her for, out of the fifth race Friday.

Warning notices were posted today for owners not to harbor, the exercise lad, Joseph Raush, who had left the employ of E. McBride.

Jockeys Kleeger and Mack Garner, under contract to the Wickliffe Stable, will be absent from the saddle for sometime, trainer Whalen, deciding this morning on disciplinary measures for the riders.

Puts and Calls, that trainer C. Rayner brought here for Mrs. J. Livingston, had been disposed to the Cleveland Stable.

The Saratoga association's Red Cross day has been decided on for next Friday. The complimentary badge list for that occasion will be suspended.

The four yearlings that E. R. Bradley purchased at the recent yearling sales, were shipped to his Idle Hour Farm near Lexington, Ky.

Jockey T. McTaggart, who is in New York, will arrive here next week and seek to get a hearing before the stewards in reference to having his license rstored.

Many owners will divide their stables and race one division on New York tracks and the other on Maryland courses next fall.

C. H. Berryman, the well-known Kentucky breeder and president of the Thoroughbred Horse Association, was an arrival yesterday and will remain here for some time.

SIR JOHN JOHNSON SHIPPED TO SARATOGA.

Lexington, Ky., August 13.—Hal Price Headley today shipped to Frank J. Nolan at Saratoga the stallion Sir John Johnson and five yearlings, and to Schwartz Brothers three two-year-olds.

T. P. Hayes returned today from Canada, where he has been spending the summer.

SOME POINTS IN THE REMARKABLE CAREER OF THE CHAMPION "COME BACK" OF AMERICAN TURF HISTORY

Undoubtedly one of the greatest racers of recent years was retired prematurely from the campaign of 1914 when Old Rosebud fell lame while leading in the Withers Stakes at Belmont Park and apparently destined to prove an easy winner. His career as a two-year-old had been one of extreme brilliancy and up to that unfortunate day his racing as a three-year-old had been up to the same almost invincible standard. Had he remained sound and in good form there is no telling what great things he would have accomplished in racing and it seems fair to surmise that in that case he would have been the champion three-year-old of 1914 instead of Roamer.

In his remarkable career when a two-year-old, he was but twice beaten in fourteen races, once by a head and once by a length and both times by his near relative in blood, Little Nephew. Juarez has been lucky in launching some exceedingly good two-year-olds in triumphant careers and Old Rosebud was one of them, along with such other stars of their years as Hawthorn and Round the World. Old Rosebud only started twice at Juarez. His initial race was in the Yucatan Stakes, run February 9, 1913, over a heavy track at three and a half furlongs. This he won by six lengths in :43, with Blarney second and Manganese third, the favorite, Manson, finishing last of the six starters. His next race there took place March 5 in a half mile dash, for a purse. This he won pulled up by five lengths in :47, with Shadrach second and Gladys Y. third. He had displayed such altogether exceptional speed in these two races that the Juarez pilgrims, who journey back to Kentucky, took with them the belief and widely proclaimed information that he was quite an invincible.

This was not far out of the way, but the confidence of his admirers was rudely jarred on the occasion of his first race on Kentucky soil. This was in the Idle Hour Stakes, at Lexington, May 1. He was a 1 to 2 favorite, but at the end of a fast run race, Little Nephew won by a head, mainly because Loftus was a better rider than McCabe in a close finish. The four and a half furlongs of the race was covered in 53⅗ and third horse was six lengths back. His next start was for a purse over the same distance, at Churchill Downs, May 17. The track was heavy, but he ran the distance in 54 and defeated Roamer by six lengths, with Brave Cunarder a bad third. Two days later came the running of the Bashford Manor Stakes and here he again clashed with Little Nephew and again went down in defeat. He went to the post an odds-on favorite at 11 to 20, but Little Nephew led every foot of the way and won by a length in 53, covering the first half mile in 46⅖. Little Nephew was a nailing good racer, but Old Rosebud was his master and proved it unmistakably later on in three really astonishing races at five-eighths of a mile each. Prior to their coming on, however, he had won two races in which Little Nephew was not engaged. In fact, it might be said that after the running of the Bashford Manor Stakes, he never knew defeat in 1913. At Churchill Downs May 23, he won a purse at the same distance over a heavy track in 54⅘, defeating The Norman by ten lengths, with Harwood third and four unplaced. On a fast track, May 26, at Douglas Park, he ran five-eighths of a mile in the new track record time of 1:00⅖ and won from Vandergrift by six lengths, with Black Toney third. Then followed three races, in each of which he decfated Little Nephew, all taking place at Douglas Park.

Old Rosebud's Three Remarkably Fast Races.

The first of these occurred May 31. Only three started, all carrying 112 pounds, and the distance was five-eighths of a mile. The fact that Little Nephew had beaten Old Rosebud twice served to make him the favorite at 7 to 5, while it was 22 to 10 against Old Rosebud and 41 to 20 against Imperator. Taking the lead at once, Little Nephew ran the first quarter in 22⅘, and the half mile in 46⅖, but in the homestretch Old Rosebud rushed by him with an irresistible burst of speed and won pulling up by four lengths in the remarkable time of 58⅘. Little Nephew finished a length and a half in front of Imperator. The second clash of this series took place June 4 at the same distance, Old Rosebud carrying 115 pounds, Little Nephew 118 and the other starters 100 each. As before, Little Nephew led to the stretch at a wonderful rate of speed and, as before, Old Rosebud passed him in stretch and won by a length in the still faster time of 58⅗, Roamer finishing eight lengths behind Little Nephew. This time Old Rosebud was the favorite at 45 to 100. June 7 brought about the first running of the Spring Trial Stakes, again at the same distance. On this occasion waiting tactics were abandoned and, going to the front at once, Old Rosebud ran the first quarter in :23, half mile in :46⅖, and swept home victor by two lengths in 58⅖. Little Nephew was always in nearest and gallant pursuit and at the finish was ten lengths in front of Imperator, Boots and Saddle and Vandergrift running unplaced. It is not of record that any other horse has ever run three successive races in such exceedingly fast time. Old Rosebud's other races of the year were all stake races and he won them all with the same superb ease.

He won the Harold Stakes, at Latonia, June 18, and, only having Big Spirit and O'Hagan for opponents, was never out of a canter to win by five lengths. July 5 he won the Cincinnati Trophy and, carrying 124 pounds, ran its three-quarters of a mile in 1:12⅘, to win pulled up by six lengths, with Pebeco second and O'Hagan third. Taken to Saratoga, he won the Flash Stakes on August 2 and, having up 124 pounds, easily defeated Stromboli, 112 pounds; Black Broom, 109; Prairie 112; Flittergold, 115, and Bradley's Choice, 109. August 13 he carried 125 pounds in the United States Hotel Stakes and won pulling up by three lengths in 1:13⅗. Black Broom, 107 pounds, was second; Pomette Bleu, 111, third, and Gainer, Cliff Field and King McDowell ran unplaced. Then having completed a glorious campaign, he was retired for the year.

He wintered in robust health and condition and came out in due time for spring training a truly grand young horse. Preliminary to and as a part of his preparation for the Kentucky Derby, he was given a purse race of a mile at Lexington, April 25, and won it by six lengths in a canter over a slow track in 1:42, with Christophine second and Ivan Gardner third, Surprising and Black Toney being among those unplaced. This race revealed that he was quite his old self plus normal improvement, so when on May 9 Kentucky Derby day arrived, his array of admirers made him an odds-on favorite in the mutuels at 85 to 100, with Hodge second choice. The starters, weights and order of the finish were: Old Rosebud, Hodge and Old Ben, 114 pounds each. Bronzewing, John Gund and Surprising, 117 each, and Watermelon, 112. It is seldom that such an important race is so easily won as was the Kentucky Derby that day. Taking the lead at once, Old Rosebud ran the first quarter in 23⅗, half mile in :47⅘, three-quarters in 1:13, mile in 1:38⅘, and won pulling up by eight lengths in 2:03⅖, a new track record for a mile and a quarter. Then he was taken east and his career cut short by falling lame in his first start.

His coming back to racing this year a sound horse, after two years of retirement, is one of the marvels of racing. It is doubtful if his case has a parallel. Moreover, it is quite as remarkable that his enormous speed in unimpaired. Up to this time, there is nothing to indicate that this splendid old gelding is not all that nature meant him to be, as an example of the most admirable qualities of the race horse. He has started in twenty races and won fourteen of them, his spoils including such coveted trophies of the turf as the Delaware Handicap, Frontier Handicap, Red Cross Handicap, Carter Handicap, Queens County Handicap, Inaugural Handicap and Clark Handicap, in one or another of which he has defeated all the handicap stars of the day and won over $30,000, besides making himself the turf idol of today.

The interesting point in his restoration to racing is that Dame Nature effected his cure, when the arts of man had failed to benefit him. His able trainer, Frank D. Weir, made this clear in a recent communication to Daily Racing Form, which is reproduced here, for the lesson it conveys:

Goes Lame for Third Time at Juarez.

"It was in the winter of 1915 at Juarez, that Old Rosebud went lame for the third time, after eighteen months of persistent effort on the part of myself and the best advice of veterinarians east and west. We had tried firing, blistering and rest. The summer of 1915 I left my foreman, H. C. McLaughlin (better known as Mack) at Latonia to exercise Old Rosebud to a cart, so as to keep the weight off his injured leg, but nature had to effect the cure and would not be hurried. So I decided to give nature her own time if it took two years.

"Mr. McLemore's farm presented the proper conditions to assist nature, or rather get as close to nature as possible. Mr. Applegate and Mr. McLemore endorsed by theory of keeping the horse thin, so he would not be burdened with a couple of hundred pounds of superflous flesh when his legs had healed and hardened sufficiently to warrant his again being put in training.

"Mr. McLemore, always a great admirer of Old Rosebud, said we were welcome to turn the horse out at his place for as long as suited us, free of charge, but that he was afraid the horse might be injured, on account of barbed wire fences. But when he informed us he had a small pasture with smooth wire, where the horse could get accustomed to wire fencing without the chance of getting cut, Mr. Applegate and I decided to take the risk to obtain the other advantages presented. Knowing the intelligence of Old Rosebud, we felt sure if he had some experience with wire fences he would soon learn to avoid them. Mr. McLemore's precaution was a wise one, for as soon as "Bud" was turned loose, he started to run and play, but soon landed against the smooth wire fence, which rebounded like the big net seen at a circus and tossed him back on his own side. Mr. McLemore said the old fellow got up, took a good look, sniffed at the posts and wire and that was the first and last wire fence he collided with.

"As stated above, it was my intention to leave Old Rosebud out two years if necessary. But Mr. McLemore, who watched the old fellow closely, was so positive he would train, that after about one year on the farm, he returned my old favorite to me, as we had planned to have him, rough looking, but with legs as hard and cool and so they have remained. And Mr. McLemore did all this gratis for the love of a great horse.

Yours very truly,
FRANK D. WEIR."

Every lover of a good horse will hope that he may remain sound, able to score other triumphs of speed and high weight carrying. Not only this year, but another and another. We cannot have too many Old Rosebud's in our racing. His pedigree is as follows:

INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE.

ALTHOUGH SOME OF OLD-TIMERS ARE MISSING, CROWDS COME UP TO EXPECTATIONS.

War Conditions and Action of Saratoga Property Owners and Hotel Keepers in Advancing Rates for Accommodations Keep Many Away.

(By J. R. Jeffery).

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—With the meeting of the Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses one-third over, conditions attendant upon the conduct of the sport justify the declaration that the season is successful to a degree fully commensurate with the expectation of the management. While it is quite true that some who have been wont to patronize Saratoga racing year after year, are absent this season for a variety of reasons, the chief of which may be ascribed to war conditions, the attendance at the track has been running to satisfactory figures and the purveyors of odds report that speculation, which was light at the outset of the meeting, has been steadily increasing in volume of late. It may be mentioned in passing that a resentment of the action of local property owners and hotel keepers in sharply advancing the rates for accommodations this year because it seemed likely that there would be an unprecedented demand for them has likewise played an important part in keeping away a good many who otherwise would be here. The townspeople prepared for an influx of unparalleled proportions this year and one result of the mistaken policy of exorbitant charges to which many of them committed themselves is that there are still any number of houses and rooms to let all over the village.

Old Rosebud's complete "comeback" to his best form after an absence of several years from racing is and will continue to be one of the most marvelous happenings of the year in racing. It has been pointed out that it often happens that a good horse is brought back to the races after suffering a breakdown, but that generally he fails to show the same good form that he did before his retirement. Old Rosebud has come back every whit as good as ever and has clearly earned the title to the championship honors of 1917.

Cure Likely to Be a Permanent One.

A case paralleling that of Old Rosebud cannot be recalled by the oldest turfmen. His complete recovery from his breakdown is ascribed to the only thing that could possibly bring it about—unlimited time. When he was turned out trainer Frank D. Weir determined that he should have all the time needed for nature to work its cure. Usually trainers who have a good horse turned out under similar conditions are unwilling to wait as long as they should and they do not get the desired results. It seems likely that Old Rosebud's cure is a permanent one. The leg that gave the trouble is now seemingly as good as the others.

Trainer Weir is pursuing a studied policy of racing Old Rosebud light in flesh so as to minimize the danger of a recurrence of the trouble. That is why some have ground for being critical of Old Rosebud's present appearance. It has been Mr. Weir's task to build up the gelding's muscular development while keeping his weight down at the same time, and that he is succeeding admirably good, judges concede.

In High Cost, which has won six of his seven starts of the season, Ray O. Egan has a two-year-old that is evidently far above the ordinary. Mr. Egan, a Californian who took over the breeding stock of the late Harry Stover upon that turfman's death, has refused an offer of $10,000 for the colt, made by Schuyler L. Parsons. Stover bred Mitten, the dam of High Cost, and she is now in Mr. Egan's possession. Mitten is now nineteen years old. She has produced Sevenfull, Coppertown, R. A. McCurdy, Envy, King Worth, Pay Streak, High Cost and one colt that died before reaching racing age. Coppertown being possibly the best of her produce until High Cost came along. Kenilworth which raced so well in the Stover colors, was Mitten's mate each year until his recent death. Then Mitten was sent to Edward Cebrian's Castleton bred stallion Von Tromp and High Cost is the get of that mating. Through a misunderstanding Mitten was not bred last year and therefore she has no foal this year. Last spring she was mated with George W. Wingfield's highly regarded English stallion Honeywood, which is standing at Reno, Nevada.

W. A. Burttschell is here, but without any horses. At the close of the Canadian racing season he shipped Fruit Cake and the other horses he trains to the Gentlemen's Driving Park at Baltimore to be freshened up for the opening of fall racing on the Maryland circuit. His horses had been campaigned so strenuously that he concluded they absolutely needed a rest.

FASIG-TIPTON COMPANY FUTURE PLANS.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—E. J. Trantor, president of the Fasig-Tipton Company, says that notwithstanding the flattering success which has attended their sales in the company's new headquarters at Saratoga, he and his associates have learned a few lessons by which they hope to profit next year.

"We shall make some important improvements before we offer any horses next year," he said. "One improvement which will interest the press representatives will be a thoroughly good press stand, whose occupants will be able to see all over the enclosure, and not only watch the horses in the ring, but the bidders at the ringside. Then we shall have a bungalow constructed, which will serve as a reading room and library for the convenience of our customers and our friends from the newspapers. Here will be found the stud books and other books of reference, besides other papers which devote especial attention to turf affairs. This will be a place where a man may sit down to read for an hour or so when he has time, or write letters, etc., as he sees fit. We are no longer feeling of our way in this venture, and now we shall go ahead and have just such a place as we want for next season."

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

Eugene Leigh has shipped the yearlings he purchased at the Saratoga sales last week to Gravesend where they will be broken and trained.

Jockey Denny suffered serious injuries when he was thrown to the track as Margaret G. and Johnson collided in a race at the Blue Grass Fair last Friday.

Trainer Hirsch and stable boys of the G. W. Loft Stable, have contributed $50 to the fund to buy smokes for Uncle Sam's boys in France. C. J. Fitz Gerald gave $5 to the same fund.

The retirement of Frank Nolan of the Beverwyck Stable will, if it should prove permanent, be a serious blow to the turf, of which he has been a staunch supporter, a buyer of good horses at good prices and a through and through sportsman. His sale of horses in training, which is announced for August 23 by the Fasig-Tipton Company, promises to be an event of no little importance.

CLARENCE H. MACKAY'S FRENCH-BRED YEARLINGS BRING GOOD PRICES AT AUCTION

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—The French-bred yearlings from the Haras de Fresnay Stud of Normandy, France, the property of Clarence H. Mackay, were offered among others for sale Saturday night in the sales ring by the Fasig-Tipton Company. The majority were by Fitz Herbert and Meddler, and one was offered by Macdonald II., which incidentally brought the highest price of the evening, going to J. O. Keene for $6,500. The colt is a son of Melody, by Meddler, a stake winner in England. Fourteen in number were sold and all brought good prices, the total being $15,750, an average of $1,125 per head.

In addition some American-bred yearlings, the property of S. C. and L. A. Lyne, Piatt & Carr and other owners were sold, the highest price of this band being paid for a son of Hanbridge—Oriental Queen, the bidder being R. Patterson, while $3,000 was bid by Tom Welsh for a son of Sain—Argon Esher.

A complete summary of the sale follows:

NO INTERFERENCE AT ST. LOUIS.

State Authorities Will Take No Action Unless Gambling Laws are Violated.

It won't be necessary to go to the expense of staging the meeting at Maxwelton August 29 to September 8 to "feel out" the attitude of the state and county officials as to horse racing, says the St. Louis Republic in its issue of Saturday, August 11.

That attitude, so far as the State is concerned, was made clear in Jefferson City last night by Gov. Gardner. The attitude, simply stated, is that there will no horse racing if it violates the State statutes against gambling in connection with it.

That Maxwelton meeting is one of a series of race programs over the country to test out the sentiment of officials and the public as to the possibility of reviving horse racing, was the statement yesterday of Joseph A. Murphy, who is promoting the meeting.

He declared, however, that no bookmaking nor odd-laying and general betting will be countenanced. All horsemen, he says, will be warned not to violate the Missouri statutes.

A great many bets will be made between individuals, he said, but that is a matter which the Missouri Breeders' Convention and Race Meeting, the title of the body sponsoring the meeting cannot govern.

The horse races will be for cash stakes, the winners taking the purses.

Should there be an effort made to revive racing at Maxwelton Park or elsewhere in the state and local authorities are unable to cope with the situation, the governor will direct Attorney General McAllister to take whatever steps are necessary to suppress any violations of the statute.

Governor's Attitude on Resumption of Racing

"My attitude toward any proposed resumption of horse racing in Missouri would simply be that of enforcing the laws on the statute books," said the governor.

"I did not make the laws restricting horse racing and I am not commenting upon them one way or the other, but so long as they are there and I am the chief executive of the state, they will be enforced.

"If unlawful racing should be attempted at Maxwelton, the authorities of St. Louis County would be called upon to take care of the situation, and if they showed any inability to take care of it, Attorney General McAllister would be promptly directed to take charge."

The governor added that he had no intimation from any source that there is to be an effort made to resume horse racing in Missouri.

Attorney General McAllister is not in Jefferson City tonight. He is at his home in Paris, Monroe County.

Prosecuting Attorney Richard F. Ralph of St. Louis County, last night declared that he had not heard of the alleged reviving of horse racing in the county. He did not say whether an attempt to stop it would be made, but declared that if any violations of the law were found he would have the violators arrested and would prosecute them.

MR. ALEX MOORE DENIES STATEMENT.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 10, 1917.
Editor Daily Racing Form:

In the columns of your paper I have been credited with a statement that I intended to bring action against the Saratoga Racing Association. I have not at any time made such a statement, and have no desire for legal complications with the association's attending squabbles. The only statement that I made was that after being a member and boxholder for many years, the association was unjust not to extend the same privileges granted to me in those lean years, from which racing has just emerged.

I considered the matter a difference of opinion, not a legal proposition between the association and myself, and regret the publicity occasioned by the article in question. Truly yours.

ALEX MOORE.

GOOD RACING AT CHEYENNE.

Prospects Encouraging For the Nineteen Days Meeting Beginning Next Saturday.

(By Peter Clark).

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug.13.—Racing will be ushered in again next Saturday, August 18, at Cheyenne, after an absence of seven years. No thoroughbred racing of any proportions has taken place at beautiful Frontier Park during that period.

The wonderful portrayal of frontier days, which lasts a week, takes place anually when the cowboys of the West, Northwest and Southwest meet here to show their skill and daring feats, closed a few weeks ago. Now comes the thoroughbreds for 19 days of racing and it should be the most attractive from the standpoint of the sport that the Cheyenne public will have the pleasure of witnessing, as there has never been as many good horses awaiting the bugle call in this section before.

Manager W. W. Finn and secretary John O. Talbott have been here for over three weeks arranging the details incident to the opening of the meeting. They have been busily engaged superintending the various improvements they are making here. They have already erected two hundred new stalls, which makes a total accommodation for 400 horses and rearranging the betting ring for the 12 mutuel machines that will be in operation. The grandstand at Frontier Park is a double deck structure built of steel with a seating capacity of 2,000 and is one of the most pretentions of its kind in the west.

Horsemen are arriving in goodly numbers and the city is fast filling up with followers of the sport.

Cheyenne itself boasts of a population of 16,000 people not including the 7,000 regular soldiers that are stationed at Fort Russell, about one quarter of a mile from the race track and on the same electric car line. Denver is only 90 miles away and it is expected that a large attendance will motor daily from that point and the meeting should be a most successful one.

Wyoming Derby Most Attractive Feature.

The Wyoming Derby is the most attractive feature of the meeting for three-year-olds at one mile and one-eighth, having a value of $1,200. Among those likely to start in this feature are Square Set, Hondo, Minnow, Gladiola, Thirst, Frosty Morning, Wand, Crankie and Commoness. These are the principal eligibles and they should furnish a stirring contest.

There is some good material quartered at the track. George Wingfield's stable of twelve is here in charge of trainer Early Wright. Among them are Bank, Slippery Elm, Scarlet Oaks, Square Set and seven others, mostly two-year-olds.

G. W. Crippen has ten head, including Charley McFerran, Thirst and eight others. F. H. Dahnken's string arrived Friday in charge of trainer T. Dealy. He has Broomsedge, Billy Culbertson and his Derby eligible Hondo, which he recently acquired at Kenilworth.

The stables of H. Wallhauser and H. Tullett are the latest arrivals. They came from Montreal. Both report that many more horsemen in Canada were anxious to ship, but it was impossible to get cars.

M. M. Shields, the well-known horseman, met with a serious accident while en route here from Montreal. He received a severe kick in the pit of his stomach from one of his horses in the car and had to be removed and sent to the hospital at Boone, Iowa, at which place he is still confined.

The English importations of George Wingfield, the Nevada turfman, which have recently arrived from England, passed through here Saturday en route to Reno in charge of Mr. Gulliams. There were six in the band, the stallion Atheling, four broodmares and a foal. All were in splendid condition.

Johnny Cunningham, who has had charge of all the mutuel departments on the western tracks, is here and is installing his machines. He states that there will be a good experienced man to handle the public's money, both as sellers and cashiers, among his working force.

TODDINGTON NOW BUREAU STALLION.

Inquiry Leads to That Discovery After One of His Get Brings $5,000 at Auction.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., August 13.—When the yearling colt by Toddington—Understudy by Star Ruby, was knocked down to Walter M. Jeffords, of Philadelphia, at the Powers-Hunter sale here on Wednesday last for $5,000 inquiry developed the fact that the colt's sire is now a member of the Jockey Club Breeding Bureau and is stationed in Pennsylvania near the city of Pittsburgh.

It is through the distribution of such stallions as Toddington, not only in the Empire State, but throughout the entire East, that the parent racing body of the United States is doing a service which is going to mean a greatly improved common horse product wherever the influence of the thoroughbred is felt. For many years the Jockey Club's activities in the line of breeding were confined to this State and the premiums for foals by their sires are offered at the county fairs of New York only. So promising have the results obtained been, however, that, yielding to a call, it was deemed an obligation to render aid in communities in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia.

It is confidently expected by Frank K. Sturgis, the chairman of the Breeding Bureau of the Jockey Club, that the success which has been achieved in the Genesee Valley, chiefly through the co-operation of the Genesee Valley Breeders' Association will be duplicated in other districts in New York State and elsewhere. More than 200 mares have been bred in the region surrounding Avon, which is the headquarters of the Breeders' Association, and the number of good matrons in that splendid grazing country has lately been increased by purchases in Canada, where the thoroughbred has long been recognized as the most potent factor in the improvement of all breeds of horses.

Recent Acquisitions From Western Ontario.

The recent acquisitions were secured in Western Ontario, between London and Ridgetown, and were financed jointly by the Breeding Bureau and the Genesee Valley Breeders' Association. They are mainly half-breds by such horses as Tupelo, Farthing and Philosophy, though one three-year-old is a daughter of Bassetlaw, an English horse by St. Simon. This filly, which is a daughter of My Maryland—Bramble, stands 16.1 hands and weighed 1,150 pounds in racing condition, was secured at Fort Erie race track, and she should found a family of heavyweight hunters in the Genesee Valley.

A visitor to Avon shortly after the arrival of these mares in their new home found Mrs. Wadsworth, the president of the Breeders' Association, most enthusiastic over them.

"I have applications for all of them, and they will go to their new homes as soon as they have fully gotten over their journey," she said. "You know by our arrangement the custodian of a mare owns the foal and has the use of the mother at moderate work. The only obligation we exact is proper care and feeding. Of course, they must be mated with a sire of the Breeding Bureau. We are all proud of the progress our organization has made, and we are looking forward to a big show here on September 26, when we expect to put forty or more weanlings in the ring. This and the other breeding classes will be judged by experts. We hope to secure the services of Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield, the renowned Kentucky expert, who has charge of the Kingston Stud, near Lexington. Allan Pinkerton, of New York, has also promised to help us out on that occasion.

"The horse show," continued Mrs. Wadsworth, "is one of the best aids in the establishment of type, and our neighbors at Rochester, through their offering of a special premium for half-bred foals at their show, which will give the first eight an equal money distribution, have made our task here in the valley much easier. When I made the suggestion last spring that such distribution would encourage the farmers, it was in the hope that it would be taken up some time. It is the method which has made hunter breeding a success in England.

Good Foals Bring Good Prices.

"Among the good foals in the valley here are two that are clean-bred and both have been sold at good prices. They are by Wonder Boy, by Watercress, the big horse which August Belmont so kindly loaned us. The ready sale for thoroughbred foals recalls the fact that it is through the possession of a good clean-bred mare that the farmers of France and England add to their income."

The following are the most recent allotments by the Breeding Bureau. Some of the best blood of England and France are represented and Roderic was a $20,000 yearling.

Le Chevesne, bay colt, 3, by Arc de Triomphe—La Cagoule. Donated by A. K. Macomber. Sent to Dr. R. H. Mackenzie, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Carmello, chestnut horse, 3, by Star Shoot—Miss Granville. Donated by A. K. Macomber. Sent to Maryland Breeding Bureau. Keeper Arthur Hall, Harford county, Maryland.

Roderick II., by Desmond—Dodragh, by Hackler. Donated by Oscar Lewisohn. Sent to Maryland Breeding Bureau. Keeper B. W. Fenwick, Green Spring Valley, Md.

Henley II., bay colt, 1915 by Rabelais—Hampton Dancer, by Hampton. Donated by J. E. Widener. Sent to New York State Agricultural College, Morrisonville, N. Y.

Baffouilleur, 3, by Meddler—Ballantree. Donated by Clarence H. Mackay. Sent to Piping Rock, Long Island.

Vitellius, chestnut colt, 1912, by Quintette—Wheatley. Donated by John Sanford. Sent to John Hopkins, 414 Lodi street, Syracuse, N. Y.

SARATOGA'S RECORD-BREAKING CROWD

Attendance of Saturday Largest in the History of America's Famous Racing Center.

(By Ed Cole).

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—The increased popularity of racing was never more pronounced than it was on Saturday last, when the largest crowd in the recent history of the track passed through the gates. "Not in my recollection has there ever been such a gathering at Saratoga," said Andrew Miller, "as there was last Saturday. It was perfectly wonderful and one that demonstrates the popularity of the thoroughbred. Then look at the enormous prices that are being paid for horses these days. This is partly due to rich purses and stakes that are offered all over the country. A purse horse can win a lot of money these days, and the earning possibilities of a thoroughbred have been more than doubled from what they were a few years ago."

While Frank Nolan, the owner of the Beverwyck Stable, is selling out his stock, it is not his intention to give up all interest in racing. He is not in the best of health and will rest for a while. As soon as he improves his well known colors will be seen again. He is keeping all his tackle, blankets, etc., ready to be fitted on another band of horses.

King Herod Has Many Admirers.

King Herod had many admirers in the paddock after he ran second to Meteorite. It was the general verdict that he is a good looker from nose to tail in fact judges pronounce him perfect. "He ran a mighty good race" said his trainer, D. R. McDaniel, "considering the fact that he is not a work horse. All I could get him to do was three-quarters in 1:17. He has to be braced to get him fit and today's race will do him a lot of good. The horse that beat him today can beat almost any man's horse and it was the fastest race of the meeting."

The layers have received many a body blow so far at this meeting. 'It is a case of bing-bing almost every time," said one of the leading operators in the clubhouse. "I don't know how long the bankroll is going to hold if they keep coming this way. One backer on Saturday won $22,000 on Dan. You would hardly think that possible, but it is nevertheless a fact. He was not the only Dan supporter either. He had plenty of followers. No matter what horse wins, there is always somebody with a full stack of checks settled on him."

Sol Lichtenstein was a visitor at the track. While still in ill health, he is improving.

After Capra was beaten, handicappers looked over the records to reason why she was so badly beaten. The majority came to the conclusion she is not one of the best weight carriers.

ADDITIONAL RACING DAYS IN IRELAND.

The stewards of the Irish Turf Club have sanctioned further flat racing meetings up to August 25, when the sport will be suspended for a month so as to have no interference with the harvest. The additional meetings are as follows:

August 14, 15 and 16, Traymore; August 18, Phoenix Park; August 21, Ennis; August 22, Milton Malby, and August 24 and 25, Leopardstown.

The English Jockey Club has arranged a further meeting to be held at Brighton on October 6, which completes the forty days' racing permitted by the government.

INCONSISTENCY CAN BE EXPECTED.

Moderate Lot of Jockeys and Change of Track Conditions Brings About Many Upsets.

(By Ed Cole.)

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—One hears a good deal of grumbling and growling comment on some of the races that ve been run here during the past week. In some cases inconsistency was pronounced and in others the much expected did not happen, and when such things are in the atmosphere adverse comment spreads quicker than smallpox. There also has been unfavorable criticism on what some folk term "boat races," referring principally to the performances of Aldebaran and Gipsey George. Both finished second, being beaten by horses which were least expected to do so, and also about races in which horses that have shown good recent form ran much below their standard, these remarks applying to Sasin, Cheer Leader and Lady Moll.

Inconsistency can be expected at Saratoga, owing to a moderate grade of riders, with the exception of one or two, combined with changes in the condition of the track and the incidents that can happen in races as well as probably a bit of manipulation here and there, through horses not being properly keyed up to every race they run.

On the lawn and in the clubhouse much respect is being paid to horses that have good financial support from the fountain head. In the stakes one can look for form to be lived up to, but in the cheaper races, where big fields, invariably contest, one is fortunate to locate a winner, though it must be admitted that horses, which are well backed usually finish in the first four, unless an accident interferes.

Many Good Things Go Wrong.

Good things are being spread around in maiden races in the younger divisions, and many have gone wrong. One race in particular can be cited, which was won by Sycamoor last Thursday. In that race trainer W. Karrick sent El Plaudit to the post, trailed by the general press notices that he could beat Smoky Lamp in his work. On this recommendation friends of the Karrick stable simply shoveled in money to the odds layers. Shortly afterwards came the Marconi from the paddock that Approval could outwork Sortie and all other good ones in the Schwartz stable. Both of these assertions are, no doubt, true, but the race was won by Sycamoor, just the same as form indicated, with the exceedingly well-backed Arrah Go On running second. The latter was one of Max Hirsch's good things that he puts over once in a while. As for El Plaudit there is no doubt that he is a fine colt. It was his first time out and he ran somewhat green as well as meeting with a bit of bad luck at the three-eighths post, being pinned to the rail. He closed up at the finish, but it was too late to be of service to his supporters.

Approval ran a disappointing race. He was outrun by Sycamoor all the way. The Schwartz brothers felt the colt's defeat more keenly than anyone else, as they believed him good enough to recommend to their closest friends as a speculative proposition.

Mr. Schwartz said after the race: "I would rather have lost ten times the amount I did than see my friends lose. It was a disappointing race to me, as the horse appeared to be much better than the average."

The racing was of an unsettled nature for the first seven days of the meeting, but will, no doubt, settle down as the meeting progresses.

ENTRIES IN COMING ENGLISH STAKES.

Many Crack Fillies in the Substitute for the Doncaster St. Leger of Next Month.

Lord D'Abernon's good filly Diadem has been entered for the St. Leger substitute, the September Stakes, which is to be run on September 12, and for which a subscription list of thirty is notified. This number represents a decrease of thirteen as compared with the total associated with the former entry, which closed in April; but otherwise there is not much room for complaint, as good class is thoroughly well represented, and the thirty nominations are in excess of those for the New Derby and Oaks combined. In the former list there were, besides Diadem, six other fillies, viz., Icefern, Rosmarin, Molly Desmond, Elisalexi, Catherine Swynford and Queen d'Or, and while all but Elisalexi and Catherine Swynford of these have now disappeared, the defections are fully equalized by the substitution of Sunny Jane, Nonpareil, Grizzel Grim and Hampshire Lily in the place of the remainder. There is thus every prospect that in the final classic of the racing season the gentler sex will be as strongly represented as it usually is during what is generally regarded as the mare's month.

Turning to the colts engaged in the September Stakes we find practically a repetition of the Derby list, though the names of Athdara and Argosy are missing. There are, however, newcomers in the form of Helford, Summoner, Rochetto, Bridge of Marne, Brigand, Dresden, Cairngillan, Kilbay, and Ho-Tei—and if none of these suggests serious danger so long as all goes well with the cracks, it is never safe to prophesy on these lines. Other highly interesting entries published are those for the Middle Park Plate and the principal races at the forthcoming Manchester meeting. For the big juvenile contest there are fifty-eight nominations, and, as amongst these are Wilton, the Eryholme filly (now named Earna), Somme Kiss, Hillhampton, Sonning, Pandion, Syndrian, Benevente, Beaufort, Shenley Boy, Sky-rocket, and Scatwell, it is obvious that high class could not well have been better represented. It will a distinct novelty to have a Manchester Cup again, but although eighteen entries is not a wonderful number, a race in which such as Parrot, Mohacz, St. Eloi, Frustration, Sealby, Aboukir, Ho-Tei, Bosget, Mount William, Brown Prince, The Viking, Salamandra, and Mountain Park are eligible to compete can hardly fail to be an interesting one. Most of the other races at Manchester have filled well, so far as class is concerned, but the shortage of entries observable here is one which, I am afraid, will be experienced for some considerable time to come.—"Augur" in London Sporting Life.

FIFTY-FOUR FOR GRAB BAG HANDICAP

Best Two-Year-Olds in Country Among Nominations for Next Wednesday's Sporting Event.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 13.—Every good two-year-old in the country, including Papp, Lucullite, Sun Briar, Tracksend, Drastic and Jack Hare Jr., are among the nominations for the Grab Bag Handicap, the three-quarters of a mile race to be run as the feature event of the Saratoga Racing Association's card of next Wednesday. The race closed with fifty-four nominations.

The Grab Bag Handicap is a sporting event in which an owner may lease a candidate. In former years there were several that run under these conditions. This year the only eligible that is under lease is Jack Hare Jr., which will carry the colors of President R. T. Wilson of the Saratoga Racing Association.

The following is a complete list of nominations for the race:

W. H. Baker's Tex Forman.
August Belmont's Lucullite and Drastic.
Beverwyck Stable's Sinn Fein.
E. R. Bradley's Korbly.
James Butler's Top Coat and Bantry.
J. N. Camden's Atalanta.
Capt. E. B. Cassatt's Camba.
Gifford A. Cochran's Currency and Bughouse.
W. R. Coe's Nutcracker.
James W. Corrigan's Subahdar.
F. R. Docter's Prunes.
Elkwood Park Stable's Rahu and Midnight Sun.
Glen Riddle Farm's El Plaudit.
H. C. Hallenbeck's Huttontrope.
H. H. Hewitt's Herald.
F. R. Hitchcock's Irene.
Frederick Housman's Frederick the Great.
J. O. Keene's Salvestra.
Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Briar, Stella Mia and Ivanmist.
Jefferson Livingston's Aurum and American.
G. W. Loft's Papp.
G. J. Long's Freecutter.
A. K. Macomber's Tracksend, War Machine, Hand Grenade, Night Wind and War Cloud.
Andrew Miller's The Spinner.
Nassau Stable"s Kokohi.
Oneck Stable's Bolster.
Quincy Stable's Trophy.
A. A. Reilly's Green Gold and Albert A.
Samuel Ross' Yonne Cause.
M. L. Schwartz' Enfilade.
T. P. Thorne's Panaman.
H. P. Whitney's Debadou, Happy Go Lucky and Ruth Law.
Wickliffe Stable's Compadre.
G. D. Widener's Lanius.
J. E. Widener's Trompe la Morte, Jusqu' au Bout and Memories II.
Samuel Willett's Guesswork.
R. T. Wilson's Queen Margot and Jack Hare Jr.

ONE OF JOE YEAGER'S COUPS.

Change of Equipment Plays Prominent Part in One of the Little Plunger's Biggest Winnings.

"Any one who does not think the wearing of blinkers makes a difference in the disposition and running of a race horse, should have been at Gravesend on June 6, 1904," says a writer for a New York evening paper. "If ever the blinker question was thoroughly settled it was upon that day. The race in question caused much criticism, ror the public had been 'hornswoggled,' as it were, either through the lax methods of some of the Jockey Club officials or the presumption of the starter. There always was a mystery about the race and upon whom to lay the blame for the trouble.

"Unmasked was a horse which had been educated to wear blinkers while racing. He needed them so badly that it was an old saying among the stable help that he would not walk around his stall in the morning without the blinkers, or rouge's badge. as the blinkers are sometimes termed. He was a horse with an extremely bad temper when in the hands of the starter—one of those excitable creatures, which knew when he was to race just as well as did his trainer. From the quiet, docile and sleepy animal in his stall when not wearing blinkers, he would become a rabid, high-strung race horse when being led from the paddock to the starting post, and while cavorting for a start, was a difficult horse to manage. He was a veritable Dr. Jeykil and Mr. Hyde.

"On this day Unmasked was in a three-quarter of a mile race in a field of twelve and such a one-sided contest did it look that the bookmakers offered only even money against his chances of victory. It was a fair offering, as Unmasked had shown publicly that he possessed quite some class, while the others in the race were but fair selling platers.

"Naturally the public and expert form students had long decided that Unmasked was a sure winner, barring accident, and had invested their money accordingly. The betting had gone on for about twenty minutes, or nearing the post time, when there was a rumor going the rounds of the paddock that Unmasked would not be permitted to wear blinkers. No one seemed positive who had issued the orders or where they had originated. Some asserted that the starter Fitz Gerald, had declared himself to the stewards that he would not start the horse unless the blinkers were removed, as his actions at the post were not only dangerous to other horses, but might delay the start. According to rumor Fitz Gerald asserted himself in no mild way that the blinkers would have to come off Unmasked or orders given to scratch him from the race.

Unmasked Sent to Post Without Blinkers.

"In those days the racing associations did not recognize betting and to scratch a public favorite at post time was out of the question. Anyhow, Fitz Gerald's persuasive powers dominated and Unmasked was sent to the post minus blinkers. There was not a horseman at the track but knew the horse would not run truly without his regulation equipment and soon there was a rush to the betting ring to cancel wagers made on him. Some of the bookmakers acceded to the wishes of their friends, but the public generally, who had bet on Unmasked, had to stand by and accept the inevitable.

"The rumor traveled so quickly that the 'market' was in a turmoil in short order. With the blinkers off of Unmasked it put a different complexion on the race and made the result a trifle more uncertain—that is, uncertain excepting in the eyes of one shrew little plunger named 'Joe' Yeager, who had a filly in the race named Mimosa. Mimosa was second favorite for the race at 5 to 1, and Yeager had already gone the rounds of the ring betting on her for place and show, knowing she could not beat Unmasked under ordinary conditions.

"No sooner was he informed that Unmasked would be sent to the post without blinkers than he picked up his field glasses and ran to the lawn. He wanted to assure himself that the rumor was correct by looking at the horse and his equipment. Convinced that it was true, he rushed back to the ring, and seating himself on his high stool, being on the line of bookmakers that day, plastered 6 to 5 on his slate against the horse for second and third.

"Not only did he accept all bets that came along on Unmasked, but he sent his commissioners around betting all the money they could get down on Mimosa to win at odds of 5 to 1. In fact, his orders were to bet at any price, and the volume of money he wagered soon knocked the price down to 11 to 5. A committee of bookmakers, who were 'in bad,' tried to persuade John Cavanagh, who had charge of the betting ring, to order all bets called off, but Cavanagh, with his customary good judgment, would not consent, as it would be a bad precedent.

"Never before or since was there such a hue and cry against the racing managers for permitting such a change in the equipment on a horse. Threats were made not to pay their losses by both players and bookmakers in their efforts to have wagers declared off, but they were of no avail, and in the midst of the excitement the race was started. All eyes were then turned to the horses, bettors hoping for the best.

Old Rogue Would Not Extend Himself.

"As anticipated, Unmasked would not extend himself. "Willie" Shaw, who was riding him, urged him with hand and heel, but the old rogue would hardly get out of an ordinary exercise gallop. Back in the ruck he stayed, falling farther and farther to the rear as the race proceeded. Finally Shaw picked up his whip and brought it down on the flanks of Unmasked. For a moment the horse was startled and he condescended to step along, but it was only a momentary action. He again became a laggard.

"All this time Mimosa and Emergency had taken command, the two running like a team for half a mile, when Emergency weakened, leaving Mimosa with a good lead. "Joe" Yeager watched Mimosa intently. Her victory meant $60,000 to him. Hildebrand, who rode Yeager's filly, held the race safely as soon as the horses were straightened out in the stretch, though a horse named Young Henry threatened to put up an argument. Young Henry had come from a long way behind the others and the effort had told on his speed at the finish, and the best he could do was to chase Mimosa home, a couple of lengths in the wake of Yeager's filly.

"Unmasked, as expected, struggled home with the tail-enders. Shaw humanely hand-rode him at the finish, knowing that he was a defeated horse and that "someone had blundered." He knew the horse did not deserve the whip, but someone did for causing the radical change in equipment to be made.

"Naturally, there was one man who smiled. It was Joe Yeager. He had profited by the blunder of someone, and to such an extent that a shawl strap would hardly have buckled around the money he won on the race. There are many horses to which blinkers make only a slight difference, while others are pronounced in their desires. Unmasked was one of the latter class. Had the public been informed of the change through an official source, and early enough not to affect the betting, there could have been no complaint, but to order blinkers off Unmasked at the last moment and without warning was suicidal. A like occurrence has not since been recorded, nor is one probable, for the supreme court of officials had much to say to the acting officials for their unwarranted action."

THIRTY LEADING AMERICAN JOCKEYS.

Few of the riders in the thirty list made much progress last week, the majority of the races falling to jockeys not in the list. R. Troise made the best showing with four winning mounts to his credit. no other one of the thirty leaders winning more than two races. Under such circumstances no material change could take place and the records of our thirty most successful riders are now:

Time, 24⅕, 48, 1:13. Track fast.

Winner—Ch. c, by Star Shoot—Hamburg Belle (trained by H. Hughes; bred by Estate of Mr. James B. Haggin).

Went to post at 2:30. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won handily; second and third driving. METEORITE, after being saved to the last turn, was forced extremely wide in the homestretch, but responded gamely when called on for a final effort and was going away at the end. KING HEROD raced in close pursuit of the leader and took the lead in the last eighth, but tired in the closing strides. ICARUS rushed into the lead on the backstretch and saved ground on the turns, but tired in the homestretch. QUEEN OF THE WATER was a forward contender all the way. BALLY slipped through next to the rail when entering the homestretch and finished gamely. WARSAW and VALOR ran creditable races. HARVEST KING closed a gap when clear in the last quarter. LEICESTER raced forwardly in the early running, but ran wide on the stretch turn and was eased up in the last eighth.

Scratched—34934[3] Verdant, 100; 29690 Hussy, 105; 34934 Gunrock, 105; 34909 Sir Richard, 117.

Overweights—Icarus, 3½ pounds; The Gadder, 1½; Conduit, 5.

Winner—B. f, by The Manager—Acushla (trained by G. Denny; bred by Mr. T. C. McDowell).

Went to post at 3:28. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won driving; second and third the same. PLUM took the lead at once and set a fast pace to the stretch turn, but was tiring slightly in the last eighth and under mild pressure in the closing strides. ROSE D'OR raced in nearest pursuit of the leader, responded gamely when called on and finished fast and gamely. LA RUSSE began slowly and showed much speed in the early running, but could never get to the leaders. RAHU was a forward contender and tried to run out when entering the homestretch, but came again and finished resolutely. HONEYDEW and REGAL LODGE finished fast. TERESA J. ran well.

Scratched—34913 Trophy, 104.

Overweights—Rahu, 4 pounds; Regal Lodge, 2½; Sabretash, 1½.

Went to post at 3:58. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving. QUEEN ERRANT raced into the lead on the last turn, responded gamely when challenged in the homestretch and drew away in the last sixteenth to win easing up. IMA FRANK, under slight restraint in the early running, moved up gradually on the outside when rounding the last turn and made a game effort, but tired in the final drive. CAPRA was in close quarters on the backstretch and shuffled back, then secured a clear course on the stretch turn, but could never get to the leaders and tired under her weight. PAN MAID had no mishaps. AMERICA III. tired after going well for three-quarters.

Winner—B. h, by McGee—Gunrod (trained by D. J. Leary; bred by Mr. Charles W. Moore).

Went to post at 4:29. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving. SAM McMEEKIN, running kindly today, raced in near pursuit of the leader to the stretch, then took the lead at his rider's leisure in the last eighth and won with speed in reserve. SILVER SANDALS moved up rapidly next to the inner rail while rounding the last turn and was pocketed until at the eighth post, where she secured a clear course and finished gamely, but the leader held her safe. THE GRADER raced well up throughout and, holding on gamely, outstayed MEDITATION in the closing strides. The latter had no mishaps and tired in the final drive after closing a gap. AMBROSE set a good pace, but tired badly in the homestretch.

Scratched—(34965) Dan, 106; 34843[2] Ocean Prince, 118.

Saratoga Entries and Past Performances for Tuesday, August 14.

WEATHER CLEAR. TRACK FAST.

The figures under the heading "Reo." in the entries below show the best time of each horse at the distance since January 1, 1916, no matter where it finished. In cases where record was made on other than a fast or good track, abbreviations show track conditions.

All the old time records, from 1911 to 1915, inclusive, have been thrown out as too aged to be valuable as applied to 1917 racing.

Racing starts at 2:30 p. m. (Chicago time, 1:30). ×Runs well in mud. ⊕Superior mud runner. (M) maidens. *Apprentice allowance.

First Race—3-4 Mile.

3-year-olds and upward. Selling.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

Provost Marshal Crowder has issued regulations under which men of the new national army will be called to the colors beginning on September 1. The regulations map out the whole program to be followed until every soldier of the selective draft army has been accepted by the adjutant general of the training cantonment to which he is assigned. Two hundred thousand of the first 687,000 men will be called up to September 1 and forwarded to the camps selected for them by September 5. The whole business of assembling the levies at entraining points, providing them with shelter, food and transportation and giving them their actual induction into military life is intrusted to the civilian local boards which are selecting them for service. With the issuance of the regulations covering the calling of the new national army recruits and their transfer from private life, General Crowder took a hard swing at men who would dodge war by claiming "dependents." He telegraphed the governors of all states tonight directing that local boards "reduce discharges for dependency to a far more restricted class and to very necessitous and clearly defined circumstances. This step of the Provost Marshal came about through reports that in some districts as high as 80 per cent of the registrants claim discharge on the ground of dependent kin.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman in the house of commons, told the members of the lower house yesterday that the government had decided that permission to attend the international socialist conference at Stockholm would not be granted to British delegates. Mr. Law said: "The law offices of the crown have advised the government that it is not legal for any persons resident of his majesty's dominions to engage in a conference with enemy subjects. Therefore, permission to attend the Stockholm conference will not be granted. The same decision has been made by the governments of the United States, France and Italy, with which his majesty's government has been in communication."

September 1, the day on which the first quota of the national army is called into service, should be marked by patriotic observance, says Provost Marshal General Crowder in a statement to the American people: On September 1, he said, the first quota will be called into service. These men are going forth to fight for their country. Each community from which they volunteer should show in a fitting manner its appreciation of their patriotic service and sacrifices. I suggest patriotic observances mark the day. I ask that the saloons be closed. And will the fellow citizens of the volunteers go with them to the stations to wish them God speed.

From Ottawa comes word that Canada has placed restrictions on the use of wheat in the manufacture of alcohol. The message reads: Definite regulations prohibiting the use of wheat in the distillation or manufacture of alcohol have been promulgated by order in council at the instance of the food controller. The serving of beef and bacon is prohibited on Tuesdays and Fridays and at more than one meal on any other day. Substitutes such as corn bread, oat cakes and potatoes must be provided at every meal at which white bread is served.

Possibility of important government contracts being impeded seriously by labor disputes virtually eliminated by the creation of a special commission with extraordinary powers to settle industrial troubles. The council of national defense, which recommended the board, will award contracts only to those who shall abide by the decisions of the board and require pledges of their employes to do so. Members of the board will soon be selected. There are to be nine of them, three representing the government, three employers and three labor.

The semiofficial Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung denies the existence of the telegram alleged by James W. Gerard, the former American ambassador at Berlin, to have been sent by Emperor William to President Wilson in August, 1914, when the German emperor is quoted as having asserted that Belgium's neutrality "had to be violated by Germany on strategical grounds."

Through the courtesy of the war and foreign offices, a staff correspondent of the Associated Press has been permitted to visit the American troops at their billets in England. They were found encamped in a valley in which white tents extended as far as the eye could see, with British officers and squads of noncommissioned officers intensively training them.

The situation in Palestine this summer is the most serious since the war began. A scheme for the looting of Jerusalem is already being executed and throughout the countryside the Turk has embarked on a calculated policy of plundering and killing the native inhabitants, so that if they are forced to vacate the country they will leave behind them a desert.

Twenty-three persons, including nine women and six children, were killed and fifty persons were injured at Southbend, in Essex, forty miles east of London, by bombs dropped from German raiders Sunday, says an official statement. Considerable damage to property was caused by the nearly forty bombs dropped upon the town.

The government will take over this year's entire wheat crop, if necessary, in order to conserve the supply for America's fighting forces and the allies and reduce costs to consumers of this country, according to an announcement of Herbert Hoover regarding the policies of the food administration of wheat, flour and bread.

Approximately 22,000 Chicagoans in the National army will go into service by September 30, according to an announcement made in Washington yesterday by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Thirty per cent of the whole army will entrain for camp September 5, 30 per cent September 15, and 30 per cent. September 30.

Five American passengers were lost when the British steamer City of Athens struck a mine and went down near Cape Town, South Africa, on Aug. 10, according to today's state department dispatches Ten other passengers and four of the crew also were lost, the dispatches say.

A Japanese mission to the United States arrived here today. It was headed by Viscount K. Ishii, ambassador extraordinary and plentipotentiary, and was received by a State Department staff headed by Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary of state and by city officials.

About 50,000 pounds of cigar tobacco will be raised this year in Hawaii. After several years of failure improved methods of curing and packing were introduced, and at present a successful future for Hawaiian tobacco is predicted.

Sinking of the American steamer Campana, a Standard Oil tanker, with the probable capture of her captain and four members of the naval guard by the attacking German submarine, has been announced by the Navy department.

Since the beginning of the war Japan's production of opium has increased as a result of the reduced imports of chemicals and medicines. The output last year showed a gain of 2,535 pounds over that of the previous year.

Orders were issued this afternoon by Harry Hoffman, county marshal, that the 600 strike breakers held at Selsa, Mo., must be moved out of Jackson County, which includes Kansas City, within the next twenty-four hours.

American rubber products have made large sales in Australia since the outbreak of the war, $2,314,935 worth of these commodities being imported from the United States in the year ended June 30, 1916.

ANNUAL RACING FORM

THE INTERNATIONAL AUTHORITY ON AMERICAN RACING

Circulating in the United States, Cuba, Philippine Islands, Canada, Mexico, England, France, Germany, Austro-Hungary, Australia, India, Argentina, Chili, Peru, etc., etc.

THIS BOOK CARRIES

indexed form charts of all recognized racing in the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico, has supplanted all others for the use of racing officials and is universally used by jockey clubs throughout the world. Compact, accurate, perfectly printed, with absolutely correct index, on linen paper, lettered, and bound in flexible leather. Contains, besides charts of all recognized racing on American tracks, the American and Canadian time records, scales of weights of various governing bodies and records of jockey mounts in the United States, Canada and Mexico, for the year.

The Special Attention of Students of Form is directed to the method of indexing the charts. The index shows each and every start of all horses that have raced, with firsts, seconds, thirds and track conditions designated on the occasion of each and every start. By means of this innovation it is possible for the user of the Form Book to instantly determine a horse's ability to run on any sort of track concerning which information is desired, as shown in the following example:
